Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 7-9, 12-14, 36-38, 40-43, 54-55, and 57-64 are allowed.

Reasons for Allowance

The dependent claims recite a futures contract that has two different asset classes; this includes a fixed income bond and a credit default swap. Upon the execution or expiration of the contract, a purchase/sale is made of these two respective asset classes. Based on a search of the prior art, there is no teaching or obvious combination that would disclose this claim feature.

The best patent literature is Lange (US Pat. No. 7,382,262). Lange teaches future contracts for various types of securities (see col. 7, lines 40-65 and col. 8, lines 1-6). However, Lange does not disclose a futures contract that relates to two different asset classes at the same time.

The best non-patent literature is Lorenzo Codogno's article, FMS Debt Collection and The Debt Collection Improvement Act of 1996 (EC Directorate General Publication) (March 2003). The article discusses the benefits of credit default swaps (page 18) and also discusses the trading of bonds and futures (pages 2-3 and 26). However, the article does not teach or show that it would be obvious to have one financial tool to trade two asset classes that include a fixed income bond and a credit default swap.
